FRIDAY and SATURDAY—

THE GREAT AIR DRAMA

"The Flying Fleet"

FEATURING —

Ramon Novarro - Anita Page - Ralph Graves

See the planes zooming, swooping and darting through the clouds. Thrilling "dog fights" and battle formations, death-defying parachute leaps, planes on fire miles in the air, and other scenes of heart-thrilling moments, filled with drama and adventure.

We believe you will find "THE FLYING FLEET" the best and most entertaining air picture which has been made to date. We feel sure that you will substantiate our opinion after you have seen it.

UNDERWRITERS' ASSOCIATION MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS

A recent supplementary report of the Town of Blairmore, made by the Western Canada Insurance Underwriters' Association, makes the following recommendations, urging that the town act upon same:

1. That a pumping plant of 1000 gallons capacity be built on the edge of the town, to deliver from wells or infiltration galleries near the river and provide a pressure of not less than 65 pounds at the hydrants when the mains are under fire draught.

2. That a pressure-recording gauge and meter be installed and the charts kept safe on file.

3. That in developing and maintaining the distribution system, cast iron pipes be used; that the minimum size of main for hydrant supply be six-inch and that this be employed only to complete a good gridiron in residential parts; that cross-connecting mains be placed at intervals not exceeding 600 feet and gate valves so that no single case of accident, breakage or repair to the mains, exclusive of arteries, will necessitate the shutting off service a length of main greater than 500 feet in the business district or greater than 800 feet elsewhere; that the hydrant placement be such that no line of hose will exceed 600 feet and the required number of streams can be delivered with an average length of hose of about 300 feet in the business district and 500 feet elsewhere; that every hydrant branch be provided with a gate valve, particularly those on the main along Victoria Street.

4. That all hydrants be replaced every autumn, with suitable non-freezing material and tested to see that they drain properly and the valves close tightly, and that inspections be made daily in the business district and at least weekly in other parts when the weather is very cold.

5. That gate valves be inspected at least annually, to ascertain if in proper working order, and that tests be made to guard against any not being fully open.

6. That complete plans of system be prepared, with valves and hydrants shown and numbered, and with measurements of the location of valves with reference to some fixed objects.

7. That a suitable chemical engine be obtained.

8. That the amount of 2½-inch hose be increased to at least 1800 feet and the other equipment lacking be provided.

9. That a more suitable fire station of brick construction be provided, protected from exposure fires, and with accommodation for two or more members of the fire department and means for drying hose and giving alarms.

10. That the membership of the fire brigade be increased to at least twenty.

11. That a new building by-law be adopted, embodying safe methods of construction.

12. That a new fire-prevention law be adopted, similar to that issued by the Western Canada Insurance Underwriters' Association.

13. That an electrical by-law be adopted, similar to that issued by the Western Canada Insurance Underwriters' Association, requiring that the installation and maintenance of electrical wiring and apparatus be carried out in accordance with safe and well-established standards given in the National Electrical Code.

14. That periodical inspection be made of all electrical installations and wiring found defective made reasonably safe.

sports are to be recommended upon the successful outcome of the programme, and for the fact that such a splendid surplus as $319.85 is on hand for next season.

IN THE MODERN VEIN—OR LITERATURE AS NOW WRITTEN

He felt his hands around her throat. Soft throat. He was squeezing it. Curse women! Damn her, she'd see. He'd teach her to stop back seat driving. She was gurgling. Ooh! Everything rotten, limp like a rag. Her head wobbled . . . She was dead . . . He ran away . . .

The divan was red. Red against a purple wall. In the half-light red-red-red. He called her. He stumbled across the room. He held her in his arms. Hot lips. Sticky lip stick. She held him close. Very close—closer. His collar was pinching his neck. She nearly choked him. She mumbled some soft words. Outside—Milk bottles rattled. The of Avon!—Ex.

For Baby's Bath

More than that of any other member of the family, baby's tender, delicate skin needs the greatest care and attention. The soft soothing oils in Baby's Own Soap make it specially suitable for babies; and its clinging fragrance reminds one of the roses of France which help to inspire it.

Honor Foundation Of Rhodes Scholarships

Great Gathering Of Scholars Celebrated Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

A great gathering of scholars from the British Empire, the United States and Germany, recently assembled in the new Rhodes house to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the famous Rhodes scholarship at Oxford University, England.

The Prince of Wales, former premier Stanley Baldwin and many prominent persons were present at a dinner in honor of the occasion.

Mr. Baldwin, who is one of the Rhodes trustees, made the important announcement that for the first time since Germans were excluded from the scholarships during the Great War, German scholars would again be admitted as Rhodes scholars. He said the trustees, subject to the consent of the university authorities, would establish two German scholarships annually, tenable for two years only.

Men's Dress Of the Future

Strangest Costumes Are Described That May Be Worn A Hundred Years Hence

Somewhat fantastic is the prediction of a New York clothier regarding the character of the dress for men one hundred years from now. He says legs will be bare from the ankles to the knee and that wide shorts will take the place of trousers for every-day business wear. Coats will disappear and be replaced by a combination jacket and shirt open at the neck like a polo shirt. Bright sandals will send shoes into the discard.

The only explanation of this nightmare is that mere man must get tired of the jollies of the sensible manner in which women are dressing in this day and generation. But, as a matter of fact, anything can happen in a hundred years. What most of us forget is that styles for men are just as likely to change as anything else.

In the earlier days our forefathers dressed in a fashion which, if worn on the streets of Philadelphia today, would attract universal attention. Wigs with pigtail, silk and satin knee breeches, gay stockings and low, buckled shoes were always in order for the well-dressed man.

It would not be so revolutionary if we were to go back to the dress, as well as to the principles, of the men of 1776.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Rubber From Weeds

Edison Experimented With Many Varieties Before He Was Successful.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison has discovered a substitute for rubber. He long ago found that there could be no substitute for the rubber tree as the source of rubber, but he has discovered a seed—after experimenting with 15,000 varieties—which will produce latex fluid from which a workable substitute for rubber can be extracted.

The weed can be mowed like wheat, it was asserted by Mr. Edison's representative, and does not require planting anew every year, bearing a perennial. Mr. Edison has late been engaged in experiments with the object of making a mixture which will substitute the rubber substitute from other components of the fluid, but he has so far not been successful in this direction.

South Africa's Problem

White Man Incapable Of Skilled Work Is Classed As Kaffir

By the Colour Bar Act, it is an offence for a native to undertake skilled work. Unskilled jobs are, therefore, regarded as "Kaffir-work," and no white man would dream of undertaking those. The result is that, if the European is incapable of skilled work, he cannot enter the ranks and becomes a "poor white," a social parasite, a "loafer" hanging on to the skirts of white society, a decadent slowly sinking lower into the morass of degradation, a feeble, hopeless figure. One white man in every twelve in South Africa is in this category today! It is the greatest social problem with which the country has to deal. This is the price they are paying for the introduction of slavery two centuries ago, and for the maintenance ever since of the slave-owners' attitude towards manual labour. So long as manual labour is regarded as degrading and as "Kaffir" work" with which no white man must soil his hands, such so long will industrial prosperity drift its coming.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red-hot days and sweltering nights; the sun beats down like little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and infantile diarrhoea carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on the alert to prevent these calamities or, if they come on suddenly, to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowel and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaints, or fit the young ones on sunlight and health.

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

LEMON CRUMB PUDDING

2 cups milk.
2 cup bread crumbs.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/4 cup sugar.
1 egg.

Grated rind 1 lemon.
3 tablespoons lemon juice.
1 tablespoon melted butter.
Pour the milk over fine dry bread crumbs; add salt and sugar, well beaten egg, grated lemon rind, lemon juice and melted butter. Pour into buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) 40 minutes. Serve with creamy pudding sauce made as follows:

1 egg.
1/2 cup powdered sugar.
1 cup cream.
2 tablespoons orange juice.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Beat egg until light; beat in powdered sugar. Add cream whipped till stiff and fruit juices. Serve ice cold.

RICE AND FISH LOAF

1 package lemon flavored gelatin.
1 cup boiling water.
1 cup cold water.
1/2 cup chili sauce.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1 cup salmon, tuna, or other cooked fish.
2 cups cold cooked rice.
1 green pepper or 6 stuffed olives, chopped.
1 small onion, finely chopped.
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water, chili sauce, and salt. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold. Slice and serve with a tart sauce. Serves 8.

Custom Still Survives

In some of the small villages of Great Britain it is said, the ministers still adhere to the age old custom of reading each verse of the hymn before the congregation sing it. This custom is a survival from the time when the majority of the congregation could not read. It is strange that it should still survive after so many years of compulsory education.

Exercises Old Authority

Church Of England Sends British Land-Owner To Jail Without Trial

The British public has just found a new and unusual sensation in what the press characterizes as an amazing case involving the right of the Church of England in some instances to send people to prison without recourse to the ordinary civil courts.

John Stevens, a wealthy Canadian lumber owner is now in Bedford jail, where he was sent by the ecclesiastical court at Ely, while a force of lawyers is trying to get him out. Stevens refused to repair the church of St. Edmund, standing on the property he recently bought. Under the terms of the old deed he was said to be bound to repair the church, but he maintained this clause had lapsed through disuse.

The ecclesiastical court thereupon imprisoned Stevens under a law passed during the reign of William IV., giving the church such power in civil cases relating to a church or church property. His relatives repaired the church immediately. But Stevens cannot get out of prison until the church court meets and considers a petition for his release.

Trade Within Empire

If we are to sell more to Australia, we must prepare to buy more from her. This cannot be built up on a selling basis. Under present conditions Canada has an advantage over her sister Dominion of three to one in dollars. But if we purchase many of the articles from Australia which we now purchase from the United States, the trading exchange between this country and the Antipodes soon would grow to considerable proportions, to the mutual advantage of both these parts of the Empire.—Victoria Times.

SYNOPSIS

Marcus, the famous Broadway producer, heads a party of four that visits Blackie Joe's night club in downtown New York. Al Stone, Blackie Joe's comedian and singer, takes a fancy to Grace, the cigarette girl, is in love with Al, but he doesn't know it. As he remains with the beer he encounters Molly, the ballerina, whom he loves ardently. He begs her to sing a song he has just written. Molly is disdaining toward him, but she does not tell him that the great Marcus is in love and she makes him promise to introduce her. When Al returns back to her dressing room, she refuses even to read his song. He sees it on the floor under her feet!

CHAPTER IV.

Al could scarcely believe his eyes—his song, the heart-throb ballad he had poured forth from the depths of his soul, lying on the floor unnoticed under Molly's sharp and careless heel.

He raised his gaze as he felt Marcus about to sweep by him. Scarcely knowing what he was doing, he seized the angry girl in his arms, pulling her close to him, staring beseethingly into her eyes. She tried to pull away, but his grip of steel held her.

"Molly," he pleaded. "Didn't you even read it?"

Again Molly tried to escape, succeeding this time. If she had been angry before, she was blazin' now. "I told you I'd important business out in front tonight! You bothersome idiot—you've almost ruined my make-up!"

She returned to her dressing table and began dusting her armpits and shoulders with powder. On the lapels and sleeves of Al's coat were the heavy white marks of the powder. But he did not notice them; nor did he hear her words. Slowly he stooped over like a man in a dream, picking up his song. He saw the sharp print of Molly's steel-rimmed heel across the music. It had almost cut through the paper, and he stared at it for a long moment. It was as if that little heel had cut into his heart.

Again she headed for the door, reaching the corridor. Then she realized that Al was following her and she turned about, determined to settle him once and for all. Her blue eyes were glittering and her voice had a rasping, harsh quality. "Al Stone, get this through your head. I won't have anything to do with you. I'm not going to marry you or any other waste!"

With vitriolic sarcasm, she emphasized the word "waste." Then with a sift of her skirts she disappeared down the corridor. A moment later she was in the main room and had forgotten Al entirely, for she saw the figure of Marcus, star of the Broadway revues, with his party at the ringside table across the dance floor.

Al's face was a mixture of expression and changed. The calculating gleam in her eyes was masked by a soft, bright, friendly look. Her body, which had been rigid with anger a moment before, relaxed so that she moved toward the Marcus table with an easy, sensuous walk. She was a very pretty girl at that moment. No one would have believed her features had been distorted by rage just a moment before; no one would have thought that she could treat a man as cruelly as she had just treated Al. But Molly was bursting with ambition and she saw in Al only a love-born man who would be a hindrance to her in her climb toward fame. So she treated him ruthlessly, not because she disliked him, but because he got in her way. Her feeling toward him was neither love nor hate, but a kind of indifference. If he had been rich, powerful or socially distinguished, Molly would have played up to him like a soft and affectionate kitten. "But—he wasn't."

Meanwhile, there sat Marcus, fifty feet away, chatting amiably with his companions and occasionally sending a hored glance toward the cabaret show that was in progress on the rectangular floor a few feet from his table. Molly studied his face and began to plan her course of action.

"What shall I do to make him like me?" she whispered softly to herself, in a more sophisticated line? He looks sophisticated, she thought, so maybe the baby stuff will not bother. Remember, Molly darling, that mad can make you famous on Broadway if he likes you. But where?"

She cut short her unspoken soliloquy to look about for Blackie Joe, who had promised to introduce her to Marcus. Finally, she located him talking to some customers. She moved over to his side.

"Blackie."

"You know—" she said significantly. "I'd like to meet him before I do my song. Then he'll be more interested in watching my stunt."

"Wise little girl," said Blackie, patting her on the arm. "Yes, I know. I'll give you a knockdown right now."

He took her by the hand and led her toward the Marcus table. She saw Marcus' eyes rise to hers, then Marcus himself was standing in response to Blackie's genial introduction. As if from a distance she heard Blackie's voice:

"Mr. Marcus, this is one of my most talented performers. Molly, may I present the most celebrated producer and picker of pretty girls on Broadway?"

Marcus smiled and courteously made way for Molly to sit down beside him. He knew that was what the girl wanted and he was willing to be polite about it for Blackie's sake. But to say that he was interested in Molly would be rank exaggeration. He had too many superbly talented girls in his review to be impressed by one who was merely pretty.

Nevertheless, he addressed a few well-bred remarks to Blackie's singer and Molly, priding herself on her conversational gifts, came back in the most animated manner. But in a moment Marcus turned from her to the young actress on the other side of him engaged his attention.

Molly studied this girl closely, her gleaming jewels, her lovely little baby-doll face.

"There is a girl," thought Molly, "that Marcus is making famous. I'll say she looks like money, yet she's no prettier than I am. This man can put me on the map, too."

But at the moment it certainly appeared as if Marcus hadn't the slightest intention of helping Molly. In fact it seemed as if he had forgotten her presence entirely.

Meanwhile, the singing waltz, whose love she had flouted, paced the corridor leading to Molly's dressing room. For a moment he stopped and stared at the crimson couches he had in his hand, his face the picture of indecision. Outside were the syncretic rhythms from the jazz band and the staccato beats of a pair of tap dancers in action, but the only sound that echoed in Al's ears came from Molly's parting words. They seemed to reverberate through his whole body, like the dirge to his hopes and love. At last he realized completely that his chance of winning Molly was an utterly lost cause.

Dull despair crept over him and the sheet of music slipped from his unresisting hands. Mechanically, and without knowing what he was doing, he stooped and picked it up. Then the title of the song across the top caught his eye—Always. "Always"—what a tool he was to sing a song like that, fondly believing it would touch her heart and that she would share his enthusiasm for it. Swiftly he crumpled the song-sheet in his fist, so as to wipe the memory of its creation.

But Grace, loving him generously, though not of herself nor of Molly, but only of some way to help him in the time of trouble. Al, the gay, wise-cracking, singing waltz, had lost his pep and energy; Al, of the deep, warm, glowing brown eyes; Al, who had been her best friend at Blackie Joe's—was suffering. She knew he didn't love her and considered her only a sweet child, but that didn't matter.

Grace stepped into the corridor and approached him on tiptoe. Al felt a slight touch on his sleeve and heard a soft, sympathetic voice at his shoulder. He gave a start, thinking in a mad burst of hope that it might be Molly. Then he looked down into Grace's eyes.

"What's the matter, Al?"

The Value Of Power

Lower the Price and It Becomes More Valuable

Paradoxical as it may seem, the measure of the value of power is its cheapness. Low priced power diminishes the cost of production of manufactured goods both for home consumption and export and in some industries, such as pulp and paper, electro-chemical, mining, smelting, etc., it is the controlling factor in location. A conspicuous example is the erection of the world's largest aluminum works at the great power sources of the Saguenay river in Quebec.

Superstitions About the Moon
In the Middle East exposure to the rays of the moon is said to cause nightmare as well as headaches, and in the Far East a morning "thick head" is added to these symptoms. In Burma there is a belief that when the insane suffer from mental storms, these correspond to the phases of the moon.

New Canadian Record

Official Altitude Record Of 20,000 Feet Made by Special Pilot

Captain J. D. Parkinson, special pilot of the Curtiss-Rid Flying Services, Ltd., Montreal, established an official Canadian altitude record of 20,000 feet, in a cabin monoplane. He carried a special barograph.

The previous Canadian record was 18,000 feet, established by Captain Leigh Capron in a Moth plane.

Captain Parkinson's flight occupied one hour and 28 minutes, of which one hour and two minutes was occupied in the climb upwards.

When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. Call an indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to combat it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know it.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

Don't Let Foods Stale

Foods that ordinarily stale quickly will stay fresh and tempting a surprisingly long time if you cover them with Para-Sani Heavy Waxed Paper.

Your grocer, druggist or stationer has Para-Sani in the handy, sanitary knife-edged carton. For those who prefer a lighter paper put up in sheet form ask for Appleford's "Centre Pull" Packs.

In connection with the propagation of fish in local streams, nothing is more necessary right now than the establishing of a fish ladder at Lumberjack Falls. In all streams in Newfoundland, falls or dams of six feet or more are equipped with such ladders. The cost would be very nominal and could be easily met jointly by the fish and game associations of this district. We offer this suggestion and would gladly assist in any way possible towards making a fish ladder at Lumberjack Falls a reality. Another matter deserving of the attention of the authorities and local fish and game associations is the necessity of destroying the "suckers," which are rapidly increasing in our streams and are destroying the spawn of good fish by the thousands. Pools are literally swarming with suckers, some of enormous size, and such pools are fast becoming uninhabited by the better fish; still the spawn and young fry must naturally occupy the bottom of pools and the streams and form a natural food for suckers, built trout, grayling and other scavengers.

A DECATALOGUE FOR INVESTORS

The following principles of sound common stock investing were presented in a recent radio talk by Mr. F. S. Chalmers, editor of The Financial Post, Toronto:

1. Buy the common stock of the leading established companies.

2. Buy into basic industries or lines of business.

3. Maintain a certain liquid fund in good bonds or other cash securities. This will meet emergencies, make it unnecessary to sacrifice good stocks in a weak market and enable you to take advantage of special opportunities.

4. Buy stocks outright for cash or purchase them on a substantial margin with the intention of paying off the unpaid balance within a reasonable period.

5. Diversify to an ample degree.

At first with a small amount of money, you cannot spread the risk very much. Invest your first $500 in one good stock; buy a second with your next $500 and so on until you have a representative group.

6. Gain experience in investing before making speculative purchases, and then speculate with only a small proportion of your funds.

7. Save and invest regularly.

8. So far as possible, reinvest dividends and take up rights to new stock in order to bring into play the power of compound interest.

9. Do not buy into unproven companies.

10. Invest in companies that are certain to grow as Canada grows.

Turner Valley produced 370,000 barrels of oil during the first six months of 1929, and the present daily rate of production is almost equal to Alberta's consumption of gasoline. Yet, according to a Manitoba paper that comes to our office, the retail price of gasoline is lower in Manitoba than in Alberta. It must be the old "cost plus" argument.—Clareholm Local Press.

For failing to bring out from the mine at the end of their shift, explosives in their possession, Gury Jenkins and Mike Lepre were each fined $1.00 with costs at Coleman. Moses Johnson, mine inspector, stated that it was an act of forgetfulness on the part of the men, but the prosecution was necessary in order to check up infractions of the mine act.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

A few years ago observers "saw" the large metropolitan newspapers with their state-wide, and in some cases, national circulation driving the rural press out of business. Some went so far as to predict a time near at hand when only very large communities could financially support even one paper.

These groundless prophecies were inspired by consolidations and suspensions of weekly and small daily newspapers then taking place and still continuing in lesser numbers. But one could have predicted as easily the passing of the metropolitan press, for wholesale consolidations and suspensions were taking place among city papers during the same period.

The truth is the country found itself in the position of having an excess of newspapers and some had to drop out of the long and bitter struggle for bare existence. The saturation point had been passed long ago, and the retreat to the point of safety is now nearing consumption.

What has been the result? Better, larger and more reliable newspapers are one result. And newspapers as a whole, from the smallest weekly to the largest daily, were never more prosperous.

Men everywhere are coming more and more to understand and appreciate the part the rural press is taking in the affairs of the nation. And its usefulness has increased with its prosperity and the public's confidence in it.—Ex.

ANOTHER OF LIFE'S TRAGEDIES

Few people from here were aware that the suicide item appearing in Wednesday's Calgary dailies had a local significance. The Russian girl who leaped from the third story window of the Calgary hospital was a recently arrived immigrant girl, who had been sent to Carl Milnes a week ago Tuesday. The next day after her arrival here she was found suffering from the effects of some poison substance, self-administered, but would not tell what she had taken. She was driven to Calgary and tried several times to escape from the car during the trip, showing signs of mental breakdown. Having just arrived in this strange land, and being thrown among people who did not understand her language, apparently threw the unfortunate girl into a state of morbid depression.—Clareholm Local Press.

MOSER—HALTON

The United church was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, July 10th, when Annie J., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Halton, and Mr. Walter H. Moser, son of the late Mr. E. and Mrs. Moser, of Zurich, Switzerland, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The church was beautifully decorated. The alter was lovely with a background of wild roses circled with gorgeous pink and white peonies. The pulpit was centered with a Calla lily boxed with tiger lilies, which in the soft afternoon sunlight and shadow of the surrounding trees and stained glass windows seemed to continually nod their approval of the beautiful ceremony being enacted at the altar. The guest pews were designated by bows of white tulle and knots of pink and white geraniums.

The church was filled to capacity. The bride's brothers, Mr. S. T. Halton, of Cardston, and Mr. Matthew Halton, B.A., of Edmonton, were ushers.

At the appointed hour the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Chardon, of Blairmore, signalled the arrival of the bride, and the pastor, Rev. G. H. Villet, B.A.

the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Harry Stobbs, of Hillcrest, took their places at the altar.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, and was preceded by her little niece, Joan Marion, in pink fawn and pale bonnet, who dropped, one by one, sprays of bleeding-heart from her pretty basket, in the pathway of the bride. The bride was very pretty. Her gown was of white georgette and silk crepe, with needlerest vest and flounce of fine Spanish lace with silver hose and slippers. She wore a coronet of orange blossoms from which fell in lovely trailing folds her tulle veil with embossed embroidery of silk roses. She carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Topp, was charmingly attired in gold taffeta and tulle, and the bridesmaids, Misses Mona Topp was lovely in orchid taffeta and tulle, each wearing white hair picture hats, the brims dropping beneath a large gold and orchid rose. They both carried bouquets of yellow carnations and white and mauve sweet peas. The bride's mother wore a gown of dove flat silk crepe with hat and corsage of pink Ophelia roses.

The groom's mother and his brother were represented by their badges of good wishes, which had been received from them from Switzerland shortly before the hour of the ceremony.

The bride's brother, Mr. James Halton, conveyed the bridal party to the church, while her younger brothers, David and Seth, were very much interested guests.

The ceremony took place under a white wedding bell centered from pink and white streamers.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. S. T. Halton sang "At Dawn" very pleasantly.

The bride and bridegroom received with the bride's parents at the family residence following the ceremony, about sixty guests extending their good wishes.

The bridegroom is widely known and very highly esteemed as a violin teacher and musician, several of his pupils having obtained Dominion-wide distinction. He has been a resident formerly of Lethbridge and Pincher Creek and resides at present at Hillcrest. His gift to the bride was a handsome Isabella fox fur; to the bridesmaids, French mesh bags; to the bride's mother, a wrist watch; to the groomsmen, a gold stickpin set with pearls, and to the usher, gloves.

The bride's gift to the groom was a handsome wavy robe trunk.

The good wishes and congratulations of the entire communities of Pincher Creek and the Crows' Nest Pass are heartily extended to Mr. and Mrs. Moser for their future happiness.

They received many beautiful and costly gifts.

The Quaint Book of the 16th Century

In three hundred years the art of brewing became an important industry in England. First in the 13th Century brewing was done at Burton-on-Trent. Of the many books on the subject of Beer and Ale, the following deserve special mention. In 1573 H. Knare published a work in five volumes at Burton which contained the following:

"On the Divine Noble Gift the Philosophical High Dew and Wondrous Art to Brew Beer."

Today malt beverages, BEER - ALE - STOUT are considered Health Drinks.

INLAND FISH PROPAGATION

Ottawa, July 2.—Revised figures show that during 1928 the fish culture division of the fisheries branch distributed 470,302,380 fish and fish eggs to assist in maintaining and increasing Canada's fishery resources. The distribution was over 59 per cent larger than in 1927, when the total was 295,285,762. A feature of the 1928 work of the division was the increasing attention to the propagation of game trout in response to public desire.

During the year two new hatcheries were constructed in Nova Scotia for salmon and trout, a pickerel hatchery in Manitoba, a whitefish and pickerel hatchery on Lesser Slave Lake, and a trout hatchery in Water-Lake Park, Alberta, so that the fish culture division now operates thirty main hatcheries and ten subsidiary hatcheries, in addition to a number of salmon retaining ponds and egg collecting stations.

In addition to distributions of fry and eggs that were made from the hatcheries last year, the division also placed nearly 45,000 fry and older fish from other waters in twenty-six lakes and streams, largely in the Prairie provinces. Seven different species of fish were represented in these transfers. In British Columbia the hatchery distribution included salmon of various kinds, trout of various kinds, and whitefish. In Alberta the distribution was made up of trout, in Saskatchewan, trout, pickerel and whitefish, in Manitoba, pickerel and whitefish, and in the Maritime Provinces, salmon and trout. The fisheries of Quebec and Ontario are administered by the provincial authorities in each case and there are no federal hatcheries in these areas.

TO RECAST SOUTHERN CONSTITUENCIES

Edmonton, June 25.—After a preliminary skirmish with the vexed question of redistribution in the province, the special legislative committee named last session has dispersed for a few weeks with the following salient suggestions for a reshuffle more or less fixed on their minds, according to reports circulated in well informed government circles here.

The vast constituency of Peace River will be cut in two, with a member each for Peace River and Grande Prairie.

The constituencies of Vegreville and Camrose may be revamped to provide for another seat between the two.

Industrial seats will be created at Drumsheeld and at Turner Valley. The comparatively small group of constituencies consisting of Okotoks, High River, Nanton, Clarendon, Macleod and Pincher Creek probably will be realigned with a reduction of two seats.

No change will be recommended in the cities of Calgary and Edmonton, it is understood, each now having five members in the legislature. Some months will elapse before this special committee completes its work, steps being taken at the present time to obtain information from the other provinces as to how the problem of redistribution has been met. In any event the clamor for a reduction in the number of legislative seats has been definitely left behind, and the recommendation of the special investigators at the next session of the assembly will call for an increase of two constituencies in the province, and possibly three.

Under instructions from the house last session, the redistribution committee may suggest an additional three seats over the present membership of sixty.

The members of the committee are William Farquharson (Government), Ribstone; Hon. O. L. McPherson (Government), R. G. Reid; William Shields (Government), Macleod; L. Joly (Government), St. Paul; George Webster (Liberal), Calgary; Fred J. White (Labor), Calgary; H. W. Allen (Government), Wembley; C. Y. Weaver (Conservative), Edmonton.

THOU SHALT NOT

It is curious that so often one must do good to people by stealth—or at any rate in the public health service make vital instruction "painless." In order to get his good advice to sink in, Dr. N. S. R. Lorraine, medical officer of Shoeburyness, in his annual report, set out the following ten commandments of health:

"Thou shalt honor thy neighborhood and keep it clean."

"Remember thy cleaning day and keep it wholly."

"Thou shalt take care of thy rubbish heap, else thy neighbor shall hear witness against thee."

"Thou shalt keep in order thy alley, thy back yard, thy hall and thy stairway."

"Thou shalt not let the wicked fly breed."

"Thou shalt not kill thy neighbor by ignoring fire menace or by poisoning the air with rubbish."

"Thou shalt not keep thy windows closed day or night."

"Thou shalt cover all the air, and sunlight thou canst obtain."

"Thou shalt not keep thy windows closed day or night."

"Thou shalt not steal thy children's right to health and happiness."

The Bermondsey M.O.H. uses poetry, striking posters and a portable cinema to help him to help his people to enjoy better health and freedom from preventable complaints.

Schoolboy Howlers

In 1657 Milton married his third wife and Paradise Lost "was completed."

"In John's regime England was placed under an Interdict and no births, marriages or deaths were permitted."

"The Five Mile Act forbade all ministers preaching within five miles of a congregation."

"Aaron was a good man who helped Moses with his conjuring tricks."

"Marcus Aurelius lived in a palace amongst luxuries and other temptations."

They Probably Were

Driving a high-powered car, the Englishman left New York points west. Night came. As he rounded a corner on Bear Mountain Drive, he collided with a Ford and sent it spinning down into a ravine. The Englishman stopped and, peering into the blackness below, called: "I say. Anyone hurt?"

No answer.

"I say," he repeated, "is anyone hurt down there?"

No answer.

With a shrug he got back into his car. "Frightful snoozes," he murmured.

In California a rancher has fined ten dollars because one of his cows crossed the highway at night without tail lights. The fact that boosy had two horns appears to have been no excuse.

Price Came Too High

The American actress, Miss Vivienne Osborne, is responsible for this story. It concerns a clergyman in one of the southern states who married a colored couple.

"How much Ali owes you, person?" the bridegroom asked at the end of the ceremony.

"Oh," said the minister, "pay me whatever it's worth to you."

The young fellow looked his bride over from head to foot with adoring eyes. Then he turned to the clergyman. "You've ruined me for life, person," he said; "you shauh has!"

LIBERTY

The liberty of a people, according to Cowly, consists in being governed by laws which they have made themselves, under whatever form it may be of government; the liberty of a private man in being master of his own time and actions, as far as may be consistent with the laws of God and his country.

American (at a Scottish football game): "Why don't they start? They ought to have kicked off half an hour ago."

Scotchman: "Aye, something serious has happened."

American: "Not a player taken of ill?"

Scotchman: "Nay, worse than that. They canna' find the penny they tossed up with."

Mr. Sweeney: "Miss Thompson, what does 'Rex fugit' mean?"

Miss Thompson: "The King flees."

Mr. S.: "But in what other sense can the verb 'fugit' be found?"

Miss T.: "Perfect."

Mr. S.: "Translate it, then."

Miss T.: "Don't know how."

Mr. S.: "Why, put a 'has' in it, of course."

Miss T.: "The King has flees."

A SCOTCHMAN'S PRAYER

"God bless the McDonalds of the McDonalds; may the great God give us strength of arms to slay all the Grants and McPhersons, and in Thy great pleasure give us rivers flowing with whisky. And if Thou has anything to spare, don't give it to the Irish, but to Thine own chosen people, the Scotch."

An Army of Cordon Bleu Chefs

An army, said Napoleon, is on its stomach, but a hotel provides as much for the stomach as anything on its food. These are the men at the Royal York Hotel who are responsible for the good cheer at that famous hotel which was opened last week by the Governor-General. They are a dandy lot, including among them such cordon bleu experts as Dr. R. K. Lillicrap, commandant of the Canadian Pacific steamship force; Dr. J. Argent, party chef; B. Alberts, assistant chef; J. Cherrier, head chef; T. Thorne, assistant chef; and P. Raasberg, grill chef.

An item appearing in our issue of last week stating that Dr. R. K. Lillicrap had gone on a visit to Eastern Canada, proved to be incorrect. The doctor is still here and on the job in his Coleman, Hillcrest and Blairmore residential parlors. His father and mother, of Creston, are visiting in the east.

Curious Optical Illusion

The Duchess of York, 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific trans-Atlantic steamer, is going to crash the new bridge which, a few days after this picture was taken, was completed across the St. Lawrence in the harbor of Montreal, although the odd result of the photographer's work makes a stand-up optical illusion. In a manner of fact, the ship is actually 26 feet above the top of the liner's forecastle which itself is 30 feet higher than the funnel. The midget figures of the steel workers on the bridge give another indication of the great height of the structure.

Hike For Health!

Automobile laziness is stated to be the cause of one hundred times as deaths annually as are caused by automobile accidents. The automobile has made it possible for us to get through life with hardly any exercise unless we are fortunate enough to be employed in some variety of manual labour. This has completely changed our mode of living but not our diet; we still eat the same quantities of rich heavy food customary many years ago.

Easy and quick transportation at any time by automobile should be one of our chief blessings; to many it appears to be far from that. The medical profession has been aware for some time of the great increase of disease among the well-to-do. The situation has become so marked that our great insurance companies are becoming seriously alarmed. Investigation has shown that fully 90 per cent of the well-to-do members of our population have either undergone an operation or are suffering from some kind of disease, and the number of sudden deaths of apparently healthy people is increasing alarmingly.

The reason for this placed unhesitatingly lies in the thousands of us of the automobile. The present health must exercise. The languid game of golf after sitting all day either in his office or in his automobile has proved but a poor substitute. Even less effective is the modern method of employing our sports by sitting on a grand stand and watching others play baseball, football, or horses run a race. Many try to replace exercise by fast foods and patent medicines, and thereby enrich many charlatans but benefit themselves very little. We are clamouring for larger hospitals and more operating rooms; we would be wiser to clamour for more parks and recreational areas where we may pleasantly indulge in natural exercise.

It has become the fashion among the motoring public to drive through our parks and along our highways as fast as the law allows, and to agitate for extended roads hither and yon; so that they may drive further from the beaten path. The motoring public of tomorrow will undoubtedly have different ideals; they will appreciate motor roads located through attractive districts with numerous parking places from which they may explore on foot the beauties not to be seen from the road. They will be anxious to learn what is behind the hill. Now, the average motorist has but little to tell of his trip except his daily mileage record; then, the subject of his motor trips will be treated by his friends with the discretion now used towards a postage stamp collector. When once started on a description of the trip, photos, mineral specimens, and curios of many kinds will be produced, and the story of the trip will be a long one full of plans for the exploration of other districts in the future.

There is no more delightful nor healthful way to spend a week-end than on a new trail. Popular books, plays and amusements are usually "different." National parks provide something different every few minutes; the scenery both in relation to light and shade and relative position, is always changing; there is always the lure of the unexpected just around the corner. Many and varied are the objects to interest the observant which will never be noticed by the long-distance hiker who, like the present day motorist, takes his pleasure from his mileage records. Some of the world's richest mines have been passed unnoticed by hundreds before the man with the seeing eye came to see, investigate, and become the envy of his less observant fellow-traveler.

An elderly woman was found wandering alone in the mountains. He said that during a serious illness he realized that in his lifelong study of the word to come he had seen very little of the world in which he lived. His enjoyment of his surroundings was almost pathetic; he realized too late how much of the beautiful in this life he had missed.

Various foreign governments carefully foster physical culture either in the form of citizens' military training camps, great athletic meets, or Olympic games, in which thousands of athletes annually take part.

Walking has become very popular in many European countries. In Germany they were quick to grasp the significance of this, and shelters have been established at suitable points of interest throughout that country which were patronized by over twenty million hikers last year. Not only university students to whom a hike was a college week worth weeks of college, but hosts of wage earners from the large cities made up their own parties of from half a dozen to a hundred or more, and had a most enjoyable holiday at slight expense.

Obviously the scheme is of national benefit. National health is improved and patriotism fostered by broadening the vision and familiarizing the people with their own country.

The most robust employee usually commands the best wages, but during slack times the weak ones are often discharged, to possibly become a charge on the community. National prosperity is based on national health. Strong robust manhood and womanhood is the foundation on which a strong nation must rest. Canada has much beautiful scenery, and it is not restricted to any one section of the Dominion. Why not familiarize ourselves with our own country by walking through it? Why not set aside, each year, a hiking week, preferably in the late summer or early fall months, and go on a hike of thanksgiving for our present health and gather a harvest of health for the future?

Canada's Fire Losses

Loss From Fire In 1928 Amounted To Huge Sum Of $102,697,849

Canada's fire loss in 1928 was $102,697,849, according to the survey read at a session of the Dominion Fire Prevention Association and the joint convention of the Associated Fire Marshals, by Mr. G. E. Grove Smith, Commissioner.

Insurance premiums in excess of losses paid amounted to $29,367,337. Ontario sustained losses through fire amounting to $12,169,897 with a per capita loss of $3.80. Alberta was highest with a per capita loss of $7.64, while Saskatchewan lowest with a per capita loss of $3.37.

Makes a Difference

Slimkins, who was house-hunting and had just arrived at a station, said to a boy standing near, "My boy, I am looking for Mr. Johnson's new block of semi-detached houses. How far are they from here?" "About twenty minutes' walk," said the boy. "Twenty minutes!" exclaimed Slimkins. "Nonsense! The advertisement said five!" "Well," replied the boy, "you can believe me or the advertisement, whichever you like. But I ain't tryin' to sell a house!"

Tribute To General Booth

Aged Commander Died Penniless Although He Controlled Millions
Appreciation of General Bramwell Booth was high during his lifetime—he was the main builder of a worldwide organization dedicated to the service of humanity; it was perhaps even higher at his death; when came opportunity to review his works; it will be higher than ever as the result of an examination of his "estate."

The fact of the matter is there is no estate. It is revealed that the aged General died absolutely penniless. He owned not one cent, and he left no property other than his uniform and a few books. He controlled millions in money and property but never drew a cent from the Army. He subsisted on a trust fund of $2,500 a year, did not own the house in which he lived, and looked to relatives to pay his children's fees at educational institutions.

There are various elements which enter into greatness. One is capacity; others are service to one's fellows, unselfishness, sacrifice. General Booth had all these. To die penniless is sometimes accounted an object for pity or scorn. In the case of Bramwell Booth it is yet another tribute to the man and his works.

WEAK, WATERY BLOOD

Is the Cause Of Much Distress and General Weakness

Anæmia — which really means weak, watery blood is responsible for the pale faces, thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures one sees frequently in the street. The cause of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. Every weak, anaemic person with the disease is compelled to live by eating thin, watery bodies with the non-red blood so promptly supplied by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pink pills restore the oxygen and nerve to the body and cure all those troubles that have their origin in watery blood. Among those who have found new health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Eliza E. Evans, Amherst, N.S., who says: "When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was sick and run-down all the time. I sought help about the house, and found housework almost impossible. I was taking doctor's medicine, but with no apparent benefit. I had often heard about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. Soon I found they were helping me, and under their continued use I regained good health. Remedy greater and greater. No further evidence could be asked of its wonderful quality.

It relieves. It is always the same quality which the sufferer from asthma learns to know. Do not suffer another attack, but get this splendid remedy today.

Canadian National Railways Earnings

Increases Shown For First Five Months Of Present Year

Gross and net earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the five month period from January 1st to May 31st, show increases in comparison with the similar five month period of 1928, according to the official financial statement issued from headquarters.

During the five months of 1929, the gross earnings amounted to $104,945,290 as compared with $101,180,759 for the first five months of 1928, an increase during the current year of $3,767,531 or 3.72 per cent. For the first five months of 1928, the working expenses totalled $86,500,272.37 as against $84,117,042.07 for the first five months of 1929, an increase of $2,383,230.30 or 2.83 per cent.

This furnishes net earnings for 1929 of $18,448,017.63 in comparison with net earnings for the first five months of 1928, of $17,063,118.95, an increase for the five months of this year of $1,384,300.78 or 8.11 per cent.

As a result the operating ratio for the first five months of 1929 had been reduced to 82.42 per cent from 83.14 per cent.

For the month of May last, the gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways amounted to $22,072,214, as against $21,751,357 for the corresponding period of 1928, an increase of $75,859.00.

Working expenses for the month of May last, totalled $19,373,149.85, as against $18,095,900.28 for May 1928, an increase of $1,277,249.57. This increase was due particularly to the fact that the maintenance programme began earlier this year owing to the more open season.

Net earnings for May last, amounted to $3,154,069.15, while in May, 1928, net earnings totalled $3,655,436.72. The operating ratio for May was 86.00 per cent, as against 83.19 per cent in May, 1928.

Nothing "Aids" For Asthma. Anæmia readily responds to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Eliza E. Evans, Amherst, N.S., who says: "When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was sick and run-down all the time. I sought help about the house, and found housework almost impossible. I was taking doctor's medicine, but with no apparent benefit. I had often heard about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. The Right Honorable Lady

New Phrase Is Used For The First Time In British House Of Commons

"The Right Honorable Lady" has been heard in the British House of Commons for the first time, replacing temporarily the stereotyped masculine designation of a member of the privy council. "The Right Honorable Gentleman."

The reference was made recently when Sir Asaphton Fownall, Conservative, questioned Miss Margaret Bonfield, the new minister of Labor and first woman cabinet member and privy councillor, on a point of her administration.

The Family Physician.—The good doctor is always worth his fee. But when all else fails, get a doctor just when you want him. In such cases common sense suggests the use of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is wonderfully effective in easing inflammatory pains and healing cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy saves many a family medicine chest.

Expensive Airplane

Probably the most expensive airplane ever constructed was recently built in England. It has a ceiling hand decorated, that cost $5,000. Accommodations are for eight passengers and include a lounge and bridge tables, electric kitchen and electric refrigerator. The total cost of the plane was $159,000.

Made Fortune By Accident

Proprietor Of Boundabout Had Unusual Luck In Australia

Fortunes are not always the result of hard work and good judgment, but are sometimes made by accident, says Jack McLaren is writing upon the subject in the London Daily Chronicle. One such case occurred when a roundabout was landed at Thursday Island—a cosmopolitan pearl trading centre of the north coast of Australia—for transhipment to Japan. Finding there were a few days to wait, the proprietor decided to erect his apparatus and employ the interval by making it earn a little. Instead of a few days he stayed three years.

The island was completely lacking in entertainments, and the colored population rusted the roundabout as they would have rushed nothing else, riding it twenty hours a day, men, women and children, often three to a horse. Fare-collectors tried to put it in relay.

So many were the repairs necessitated by the excessive wear that before the end of the second year when the affair had been twice completely rebuilt. Those three years gave the owner far more money than he had thought to earn in the whole of his life.

Stay In Canada

Many People Who Contemplated Going To U.S. Have Changed Their Minds

At least 50 per cent of the people who wanted to go to the United States two or three years ago and put themselves on the waiting list at the United States consulate for that purpose, now have changed their minds and are staying here, said Emil Sauer, United States consul stationed at Toronto.

Discussing immigration in an interview, Mr. Sauer said that these people while waiting their turns on the quota list have found jobs in Canada. They now have no desire to migrate. Business conditions here are improved to such an extent that we find an increasing proportion of those on the waiting lists do not turn up when they are notified their turn has come," he said.

WOULD RESUME TRADE RELATIONS WITH SOVIETS

London, Eng.—The British Government this week will forward a communication to the Russian government, which it is hoped will enable a Russian representative to visit London before the end of July, to talk with Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, on resumption of normal relations between the two countries. It is hoped that during the conversation a satisfactory understanding will be reached, enabling the diplomatic machinery to be restored.

Premier Ramsey MacDonald, in the House of Commons recently expressed the opinion that a suitable opportunity would arise in the House soon for debate on the question of resumption of relations with the Soviet government, but added he could give no understanding to postpone action until after such a debate.

The prime minister also said he would consider the question of publishing the correspondence between the British and Dominion governments on the matter, but the stage had not yet been reached where publication was desirable. The dominions would have to be further consulted, he said.

Asked whether Britain would renew relations with Russia even if the dominions were not in agreement, the prime minister said he was unable to make any statement on this point at present.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, declined to consider whether the Soviet reply were satisfactory before relations were resumed.

"No," Premier MacDonald stated.

"We will follow the procedure the honorable gentleman himself always followed."

Hon. Winston Churchill, former chancellor of the exchequer, then suggested that unless the question was debated before the end of the session the matter might be decided and settled before the House had re-assembled after the short summer vacation.

"As far as the government can settle it, yes," Mr. MacDonald replied, "but the House will still be able to discuss the matter and decide upon it."

To Form Wheat Pool

Australian Growers Ready To Take Ballot On Question

Sydney, Australia.—Following a conference with representatives of the wheat growers on the position of the Australian wheat industry, the cabinet accepted the recommendations for a ballot among wheat growers on the question of establishing an Australian wheat pool. The conference was in favor of a minimum price of three shillings and six pence a bushel (approximately 84 cents), for the first advance from the pool to growers.

Australian commercial banks are willing to guarantee a certain amount if the pool is formed. The government's share in responsibility for such a guarantee is to be discussed later.

Ottawa Not Informed

No Communication Yet Received Regarding Imperial Economic Conference

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion government has not yet received a communication from the government of Great Britain asking whether or not it will be possible to hold an Imperial economic conference. This was stated at the Department of External Affairs when the attention of the Department was drawn to the statement of Right Hon. Philip Snowden, in the British Parliament, that such communications were being sent to the various British Dominions.

No Maneuvres

London, England.—No maneuvers or inter-brigade operations will be carried out by the British Army on the Rhine this year. Right Hon. Tom Shaw, Secretary for War, made this announcement in the House of Commons. "The government will not willingly cause either inconvenience or annoyance to the civilian population he said."

Will Exclude Trotsky

London, England.—The Daily Express states that the British Cabinet has reached a formal decision to refuse Leon Trotsky entrance to Great Britain. The exiled Soviet chief made application for a visa soon after the Labor victory was reported at the polls.

American Boat Forfeited

Vessel Will Be Put Up For Sale By Order Of Admiralty Court

Victoria.—The American salmon trolling boat number 557-G.A. was condemned, and declared forfeited to His Majesty, by Hon. Mr. Justice MacLaren, sitting in the Admiralty Court here. The vessel will be put up for sale by Herbert Goggin, Admiralty Court Marshal.

The number 557-G.A. was seized May 18, off Pachena Point on the west coast of Vancouver Island by the Canadian Government Fisheries Protection cruiser, Givenchy, and was charged with illegal fishing in British Columbian waters.

H. A. MacLean, K.C., counsel for the owners of the tug 557-G.A., who withdrew from the court proceedings against the boat made a re-appearance in Admiralty Court and entered a consent on behalf of the owners of the vessel to an order for its condemnation.

In the action of the Crown versus the Jeannette, Captain Olaf Hansen, master of the American vessel which was seized by the Canadian Government Fisheries Protection cruiser, Malaspina, on May 6, last, in Goose Harbor, about 100 miles north of Alert Bay, told the court that engine trouble compelled him to turn back and had him to seek anchorage in Goose Harbor the following day to make temporary repairs to the ship's engines.

Officials Find Drugs In Envoy's Boxes

French Customs Examiner Discovers Cases Contained Heroin and Cocaine

Paris.—French customs officers believe they have uncovered a flagrant violation of the diplomatic immunity to cloak wholesale importation of heroin and cocaine into France. An investigation has been ordered.

The customs examiner's curiosity was aroused by the appearance of four packing-cases addressed to Sir Al Ghulam Nasi Khan, the Afghan minister in Paris, who has just been appointed ambassador to Moscow.

As the cases were being placed in custom officials noticed a white powder escaping through a crack. They took a sample, which proved to be heroin. The cases were all opened and found to contain heroin and cocaine to the value of $33,280.

In some districts of Saskatchewan he said, the United Grain Growers was in direct opposition to local co-operative societies.

The only point on which the congress was concerned, said Mr. Ketcheson, in supporting his resolution, was whether the United Grain Growers could be rated a co-operative organization at present. He thought not.

The people of the city who travel with the U.G.G. are not collecting profits, which by their trade, they make for the company," he declared.

"Huge money reserves have been built up but this mass of money is for the shareholders—and the shareholders only, not the farmers," he added.

Railway Conductors Given Privileges

Ottawa.—The right of the Order of Railway Conductors to contract separately with the Canadian Pacific Railway, western lines, for an increase in wage rate, apart from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was upheld by a report of the Board of Conciliation empanelled by Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, to inquire into this matter.

The identity of the uninvited guest is unknown.

Japanese Aviator Killed

Started From Los Angeles July Third, On Trip Around World

Salt Lake City, Utah.—The body of Masashi Goto, 22-year-old Japanese aviator of Los Angeles, and the wreckage of his aeroplane in which he had started on a projected trip around the world, were found in a canyon near here. Backed by crowds raised by Japanese newspapers of the Pacific Coast, Goto had set out July 3, from Los Angeles and had flown to Salt Lake City. The next morning he left the airport here in his small plane and was never seen alive again.

Unemployed In Britian

London, England.—The official registration of unemployed numbered 1,142,400 here on July 1, it was made known recently. This number is 24,593 above the mark of the previous week and 75,780 below the figure for the same period last year.

Record For Panama Canal

Washington, D.C.—The cargo tonnage carried through Panama Canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific in May set a new record for all time with 920,360 long tons. The heaviest Pacific-bound tonnage in any previous month — 575,641 — was in October, 1928.

GRAIN GROWERS WITHDRAW FROM CO-OP. UNION

Winnipeg.—One of the largest produce marketing corporations in western Canada has indicated definitely that it would withdraw its affiliation from the Co-operative Union of Canada, at the congress of that body here, when Hon. T. A. Crerar, president of the United Grain Growers, Limited, Winnipeg, replied to charges leveled against the United Grain Growers by delegates from Saskatchewan, that the company "no longer retained its co-operative spirit among the farmers of the western provinces."

A resolution presented by H. W. Kellison Davidson, Stask, chairman of the Resolutions Committee, asking the resignation of the United Grain Growers, Limited, received the support of several delegates before Hon. Mr. Crerar announced the intention of serving notice of his company's withdrawal from the Co-operative Union.

In speaking of the statement that the United Grain Growers had forsaken the co-operative method of doing business, Mr. Crerar strongly denied that the company had ever swerved from its original plan to work for the benefit of the western farmer.

"Our business details have not changed in any detail since 1906 when we started business," Mr. Crerar stated. "The company has always held a strong co-operative spirit, still does and always will."

The annual meeting was denied the privilege of voting on the motion to ask for the resignation of the United Grain Growers when Mr. Crerar made his declaration that the firm would withdraw. J. G. Mohr, Endevnon, Sask., while admitting that the Grain Growers had done a great pioneer work in the co-operative methods throughout Western Canada, was of the opinion that no longer could they term themselves a co-operative concern.

In some districts of Saskatchewan he said, the United Grain Growers is in direct opposition to local co-operative societies.

The only point on which the congress was concerned, said Mr. Ketcheson, in supporting his resolution, was whether the United Grain Growers could be rated a co-operative organization at present. He thought not.

The people of the city who travel with the U.G.G. are not collecting profits, which by their trade, they make for the company," he declared.

"Huge money reserves have been built up but this mass of money is for the shareholders—and the shareholders only, not the farmers," he added.

Talkies On Atlantic Liners

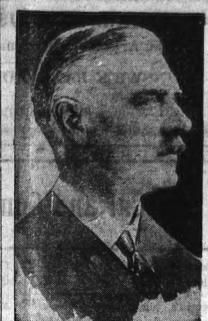

London, England.—Apparatus for taking pictures is being installed on the Trans-Atlantic liner "Majestic," it was announced here. The "Leviathan" will follow suit in the near future, and all the other principal liners will be similarly equipped, it was learned as a coup aimed at ousting Russia from joint control of the line.

TWO GOLF LEADERS

Western Canada is very much in the golfer's limelight this year with both the Canadian Amateur and Western Canada Amateur championships being played over the Jasper Park Lodge course, Jasper National Park, Alberta, August 19-24, inclusive. Much organization has been necessary to make sure of the success of these tournaments, and none have worked harder than G. E. Harvey, of Winnipeg, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association (left), and C. W. Jackson, of Winnipeg, president of the Western Canada Golf Association.

Officials Demand Trial Of Vice-Consulate's Wife Under Chinese Law

San Francisco.—A demand that Mrs. Ying Kao, wife of the Chinese vice-consul in San Francisco, be tried under Chinese law in China and put to death if convicted for her alleged bringing a large quantity of opium to this country, was made here by the executive committee of the Kuomintang of America.

It was explained that the Nationalist government had enacted stringent laws against trafficking in opium in China and that such laws provided the death penalty in case of their violation by persons connected with the government.

Yink Kao, upon the advice of friends, terminated his connection with the consulate. Neither Mrs. Kao nor her husband have been placed under arrest.

Cowboy Loses Right Eye

Bull Finished Ride For Prize At Calgary Stampede

Calgary.—An outstanding feat of human endurance was performed at the stampede here when Lee Farris, of De Winton, Alta., known far and wide as the "Canada Kid," continued to ride a Brahman steer after his right eye had been pulled out by the steer's horns. Farris finished his ride to take the prize money for the day for this event although he suffered his injury early in the test. He was taken to hospital after the event and the remains of his eye were removed. His condition is serious but he is expected to make recovery. Last year the Canada Kid was the champion all-round cowboy.

HIGH GRADE WHEAT IS STILL BOAST OF CANADA

Fort William, Ont.—Wheat was and still is the boast of Canada and never was there a time when it had been chased off the high seas, declared Dean Rutherford, member of the Canadian Royal Grain Commission, at a session of the commission.

Dean Rutherford was replying to an editorial which appeared in a local newspaper and which criticized the quality of Canadian wheat.

Canadian wheat has a quality of its own, he declared.

"Even our number five wheat was quoted at equal and a little better than other export wheat from other countries," he speaker stated.

While Britain will buy American wheat when it is cheaper, British wants Canadian wheat, Dean Rutherford continued. A report issued recently by the United States government quoted the price of the best export Argentine wheat at 16 cents less than Canadian No. 3 Northern, and the best United States export wheat at 14 cents under the same grade.

The commissioner said that lack of rain in the fall of 1926 and 1927 had damaged the crop. The same condition prevails this year. The farmer cannot be blamed for this, he stated.

"Our wheat holds its place in the markets of the world with any wheat in any country of the world," Dean Rutherford concluded.

A representative of the local newspaper whose editorial was under discussion, declared that it could not be denied that Manitoba No. 1 hard wheat on which the reputation of western Canadian wheat was based had vanished from the market. In no place in the west was No. 1 hard raised today, he declared. He drew attention to the report of the seed branch on the seed sown by the western farmers.

This report showed that in a large number of cases seed taken from the hopper of the drills showed that the seed contained only about fifty thousand seed weeds per acre. The condition of western fields in some sections were such that it was impossible to say whether a stocked field contained stocks of grain or of weeds. He claimed that these conditions were under the control of the farmer.

For these reasons, he believed there was justification for most of the statements in the editorial in question. It was possible that No. 3 wheat was all that was claimed but the farmer no longer has even No. 3 to sell.

The commission brought its session at the head of the lake to a close with today's meeting. The commissioners departed by lake steamer to continue their investigations of the lower lake ports and the Atlantic seaboard ports.

MAY REFUSE CLEARANCES TO LIQUOR BOATS

Ottawa.—The impression is growing here that the Dominion government may modify its policy with respect to granting liquor clearances to the United States. In fact, it would come as no great surprise to some observers if the cabinet went all the way and complied with the request of the United States to refuse altogether liquor clearances to that country.

Whether these forecasts are correct or not, there can be no doubt that the recent developments throughout the country along the Detroit river have caused violent repercussions.

During the last session of Parliament there was scarcely a sitting that petitions were not presented from various religious and temperance bodies asking that clearances be refused. These formal protestations were mild as compared with the telegrams and letters which are pouring in on the ministers of the Crown these days.

These letters and telegrams are coming from all over the country and while they are not being made public it has become known that many of them do not mince words in expressing opinions of the writers about the present policy of permitting the clearance of liquor to the United States in contravention to the dry laws of that nation. The government is accused of facilitating the harboring of armed thugs who attack officers of the law of a friendly country.

Canada was no more justified, one prominent Canadian is reported to have telegraphed the prime minister, in the action it was taking than was the United States when it permitted the Fenian raids. The government is accused of fearing the liquor interests. In fact the accusations hurled at the government for not stopping clearances are said to take in a tremendous range.

The prominence of many of the writers of these petitions gives ground for speculation as to what the reaction of the ministry will be to them. There is a feeling that many of the men who have sent in their protests will not be satisfied with the formal reply that their communications would be submitted to the government.

No doubt much will depend on the tidings brought back by the ministers of the Crown now spread out over Canada. They will likely know when they return whether these letters are backed by any considerable public opinion. Of course it is a matter for the cabinet to decide, not any one minister. Most of the wrath of these epistles burst against the Minister of National Revenue, but he simply administers the policy decided on by the government.

Meanwhile there is a great deal of thought being given as to just what would happen if clearances were refused.

Pensions In Russia

Workmen To Benefit Under Soviet Old Age Pension System

Moscow.—Workmen who have reached the age of 60 and worked at least 25 years are entitled to receive half their present wages until death, under the provisions of the old age pension system, enacted by the Soviet Government. In dangerous occupations, the age limit is 50 years. Women of 55 who have worked 20 years are granted the same benefits.

Cutting Zinc Production
Brussels, Belgium.—Zinc producers from the United Kingdom, Germany, Silesia, France, Belgium, Canada and Mexico at present issued a statement saying they had decided to reduce production of zinc by 10 per cent, instead of 5 per cent, to the end of the present year. The rate of production in 1928 will be decided at a later date.

Recovery From Operation
Ottawa.—Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, was removed from the Civic Hospital to his residence on Range Road. Mr. Dunning was operated on six weeks ago for appendicitis and although his progress has been satisfactory it will be some considerable time before he is entirely recovered.
